INDUSTRY SUPPLIER

The Reapit Training Academy includes the Reapit learning management system

Delivering the ability to book, track and consume online and live training content with ease, Reapit IQ provides a simple, yet sophisticated, platform to allow users to take charge of their own learning.

Five Reasons to love

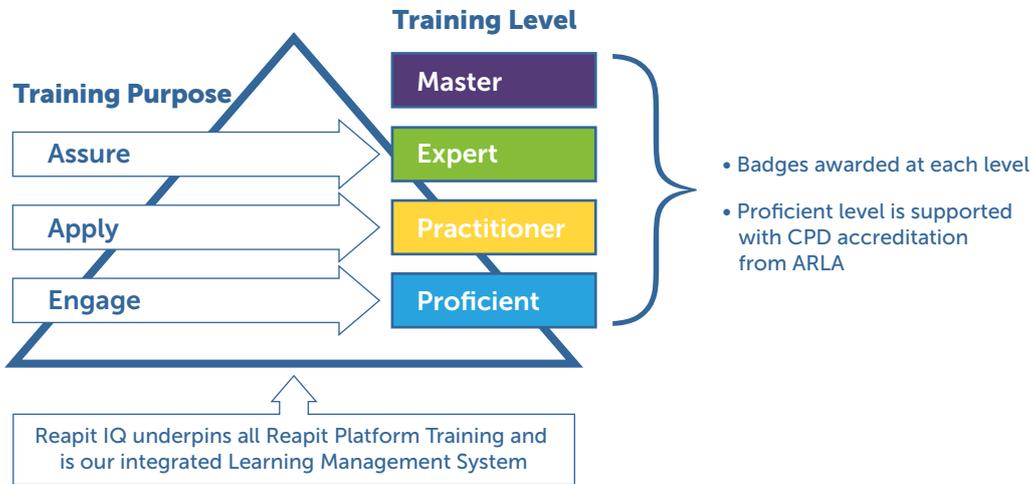

Reapit IQ:

- 1. Accessibility – Unlimited access to book from a wide selection of training including our front-end sales and lettings curriculums as well as property management, client accounts and more.
- 2. Flexibility – Users can learn at their own pace either through our learning videos which are available 24/7, or by booking one of our many webinar or classroom sessions.
- 3. Control – Users can take charge of their learning journey by booking onto sessions themselves and tracking their progress as they go along.
- 4. Interactivity – The learning videos are short (4 minutes on average), concise and designed to keep learners engaged.
- 5. Validation – There are short quizzes designed to help users validate their learning and address any gaps.

Training Accreditation Framework

Four levels on the journey to product mastery

3 means of delivering training

1. Online courses through Reapit IQ

Covering the Reapit Training Academy curriculum through short training videos followed by tests after each section. In 2018, there were over 24,000 video views on Reapit IQ with users given access as soon as their account is set up, and the link to it is available from the platform Help Menu.

2. Live training events and webinars accessible anywhere

Regular webinars delivered by an experienced Reapit trainer guiding learners through the training content with student/teacher interactions every step of the way.

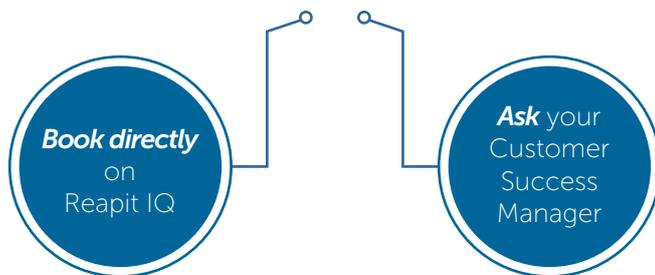

3. Face-to-face classroom experience in a professional Reapit training centre

Face-to-face training delivered from one of the professional Reapit training centres (in London, Leeds and Solihull), with an experienced trainer leading the session and participants using state-of-the-art equipment.

TWO WAYS

of requesting training

"I highly recommend Reapit IQ to Reapit customers. It's so easy to use, which reflects on the modern trend to keep it simple. It's also easy to find what you are looking for in Reapit IQ, hence it saves me a lot of time. Furthermore, the customer service at Reapit has been excellent with all our enquires regarding Reapit IQ, and they always respond promptly. I encourage all my staff to use the training platform, so they can get more familiar with the software."

Stan Tonchev – Associate Director, Kingsley Hamilton Estates

"We were attracted to the Reapit platform by its ease of use, and the excellent in-house training provided by Reapit."
